

British Rowing Masters Championships

The British Rowing Masters Championships is moving to a different weekend in 2012 because the National Water Sports Centre in Nottingham is not available on the event's normal weekend. This is because of changes to the late May Bank Holiday and because of the Olympics.

The new date is Sunday 20th May 2012.

The full range of Masters events will be offered, as usual, together with a good range of events for Intermediate 3 Masters and Novice Masters.

Provisionally the following events will be offered for all age categories (A-I):-
